

Delivering legal services with 'Clarity & Guidance'

Intellectual Property & IT

We appreciate that our clients invest significant time and money in developing their brands, inventions and designs. We are on hand to assist our clients with the identification, protection, management and enforcement of these intellectual property rights. We advise clients on the complexities surrounding collaborations and help preserve their proprietary rights in licensing arrangements. We also support businesses with a range of information technology matters including software development, licensing, support and maintenance, Software as a Service (SaaS) and terms of use.

Equity Investment

We advise both founders and investors on equity investments into small and medium sized businesses. We work with businesses in a range of sectors but have particular experience with high growth technology based start-ups. We understand the requirements of investors looking to make EIS and/or SEIS compliant investments. Our experienced team is able to focus on the relevant issues and provide pragmatic solutions to ensure that the terms of the investment are negotiated and completed on time and on budget.

Commercial

We like to see ourselves as your 'in house' legal team advising on a range of commercial matters. Our experience is that clients are looking for speedy and practical advice on a range of contractual issues including agency, distribution, franchise, licensing, supply and terms and conditions. We also advise on data protection legislation issues for both data controllers and data processors, ensuring that our clients manage their valuable data in a compliant manner.

Corporate

Our specialist experience combined with a personal approach sets us apart from larger corporate practices. Our work includes buying and selling businesses, establishing partnership/joint ventures and advising on debt investments, shareholders' agreements and group restructurings/reorganisations. We recognise the need to combine specialist knowledge with a commercial approach that achieves the right outcomes for our clients.
